ALLIES REPULSE GERMAN ATTACKS

Teutons Meet Heavy Losses in Attempts to Take Ypres.

KAISER . REINFORCED

Optimism in Paris Continues to Grow Notwithstanding Conservative Official Dispatches.

Paris Nov. 2—Germans assaults made last night in another desperate attempt to take Ypres, were repulsed with heavy losses, according to officials reports reaching military readquarters today. The entire German offensive, while vigorously maintained, has been a failure, in so far as capturing positions of strategic importance is concerned. The allies have extended their lines along the coast through Nieuport and Westende to Middelkerke, toward Mariakerke, where the Germans' main coast line remains.

Severe fighting is still reported between La Bassee and Lille, and between La Bassee and Arras, but despite the fact that the Germans have been very strongly re-enforced, it is declared here they have been unable to make any material gains.

Despite the conservative nature of all of the official bulletins the feeling of optimism among the officers of the army of the defense of Paris continues to grow.

WARD REAPPEARS.

Man Supposed to Have Been Drowned in Chesapeake Joins Family.

Baltimore, Nov. 2.—W. E. Ward, formerly of Syracuse, N. Y., who it was believed, was drowned when he was swept from his launch early Tuesday morning by the gale which raged over the Chesapeake, and who was thought dead by his wife and daughters, who were rescued from the vessel, was himself rescued by Captain W. R. Robertson, of the schooner William L. Franklin. Mr. Ward rejoined his wife and daughters Wednesday morning at the summer home of George and Frederick Kahl on Taylor's Island, where Mrs. Ward and her two daughters, Leona, 12 years old, and Christie, 17 years old, were taken after they had been rescued.

The engines on the Ward launch stopped while the party was making for shore on Taylor's Island. The gale that swept over the Bay Monday night and early Tuesday morning was then at its height. Mr. Ward did everything possible to save his wife and daughters, and in the attempt to make them safe and pilot the vessel ashore, was washed overboard. After Mr. Ward had been swept from the boat, his wife, frantic, did her best to keep the prow of the vessel to the wind. She succeeded in keeping the launch afloat until daylight, when the boat was noticed by the Kahls, who went to the rescue. Mrs. Ward was overcome by grief, and she told the Kahls her husband had drowned. A letter to this effect was written to Baltimore by one of the daughters.

In the meantime, Mr. Ward himself rescued, was raving on the deck of the schooner William L. Franklin, believing his wife and daughters had been drowned. Mr. Ward had been picked up by Captain Robertson immediately after being swept overboard.

Tuesday evening Captain Robertson went ashore on Taylor's Island and found Mrs. Ward and her daughters mourning the loss of the husband and father. He could not return to his boat then. He went back on Wednesday morning, broke the good news to Mr. Ward, and then took him ashore.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Robert Layfield, the Johns Hopkins quarterback, who was injured in a game against Lehigh at South Bethlehem, Pa., Saturday, is paralyzed from the waist down.

Tye Haun, proprietor of a garage at Harrisonburg, Va., Layton Pulvey, Misses Sallie and Mina Pulvey, son and daughters of Superintendent of Schools Pulvey, of Rockingham county, and Robert Bowers, all of Harrisonburg, were seriously injured when their automobile was wrecked yesterday. The car skidded on a curve, and after two wheels were demolished turned over.

The announcement of the unfriendly attitude of Turkey toward the allies was made throughout India yesterday, in an official communication wherein the Viceroy of India deplores "the endeavor of a Chauvinistic element to drive Turkey into a war with Great Britain, for the benefit of Germany and Austria. The reception of the announcement in outlying districts will not be known for some days, but responsible leaders of the Mohammedan community already are holding meetings in support of Great Britain, while the mosques are organizing prayers for the success of the British arms. The mullahs are preaching homilies, urging Turkey either to maintain neutrality or side with the allies.

More than 2,000 gallons of wine were yesterday poured over the dwelling of William Krum, a Bargaintown, N. J., farmer, in a successful effort to save his home from destruction by fire. The fumes of the spirits, as they were licked up by the flames, scented the country for miles, and drifting across the meadows gave Atlantic City the "odor" of an open Sunday. Over 1,000 chickens, pigeons, and ducks were suffocated by the fumes. Water in two wells had dried up, making the use of the wine necessary to save the house.

Ernest J. Fischer, 50 years of age and a well known musician, of Wilmington, Del., swallowed his false teeth while asleep, and did not know it. Mr. Fischer missed his artificial molars when he awoke this morning, and began searching for them in his room. Suddenly he felt a queer sensation in his stomach, and then it dawned upon him he had gulped down the teeth, probably while snoring. This was confirmed later in the day when he went to the Polyclinic Hospital, of Philadelphia, and had the teeth located in his stomach by means of an X-ray. An operation will be performed.

Lieut. Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, (retired), former chief of staff of the United States army, died at his home yesterday at Los Angeles, Cal., of typhoid pneumonia. His body will be taken to Washington for interment in Arlington National Cemetery.

As showing the huge German losses in the Ypres region it is stated that the British soldiers have buried more than 25,000 Germans. There are many great piles of German dead around Dixmude, which it has been impossible to bury on account of the continuous fighting. Dixmude is a heap of ruins. The only inhabitant remaining is an aged peasant woman who refuses to quit her ruined home.

A dispatch from Cape Town says: "Col. Alberta has defeated the rebels in the Lichtenburg district of the Transvaal, killing 13, wounding 30, and capturing 240. Among the captured is Commandant Claussens. Durban correspondent of the London Daily Mail says the government at Pretoria has granted General Christian De Wet, the rebel leader, a five-day armistice, presumably in order to arrange peace.

The resignation of the Italian Cabinet which was announced Saturday night, is explained by the Giornale D'Italia of Rome on the ground that Premier Salandra and other Ministers refused the demand of the Minister of the Treasury, Signor Rubini, that Parliament be asked to vote $50,000 for military expenditures. The paper adds that Salandra probably will be asked to form a Cabinet.

London, Nov. 2—Turkey has declared a "holy war," and Turkish troops have crossed the frontier into Egypt from Akabahand and Gaza to mobilize while several army corps are gathered at Damascus and Mosus, according to semi-official reports reaching here today.

The Amsterdam correspondent of Reuter's Telegraph Company says that the Sultan has notified all the powers that England's attitude toward Egypt prevented the execution of his sovereign rights, and that the Khedive will demand of Great Britain an explanation of her actions.

Not only has England been prepared for this move but plans have been perfected to meet the advance of the Moslem hordes that are reported massing for action.

Along the Suez Canal the British are fortified in strong positions, and through the foresight of Lord Kitchener fresh troops, stronger numerically if not so well trained, replaced the veterans withdrawn to play their part in the fighting in France and Belgium.

RICHMOND LOSES $135,000

Cost of Rolling Stock Bill Shown by Commission's Assessments.

Richmond, Nov. 2.—Because of the enactment of the so-called rolling stock legislation by the last General Assembly, which takes from the headquarters cities of the various railroads the rolling stock taxes, and distributes them in the territory through which the roads operate, Richmond this year loses some $135,000 in taxes from transportation companies. Three railroads, the R., F. & P., the C. & O. and the Southern, last year paid rolling stock taxes to Richmond. This year, as do other companies, they pay on personal property and real estate valuations.

The 1914 assessment by the State Corporation Commission on common carriers in Richmond was received by Commissioner of Revenue Tresnon and yesterday turned over to Collector of City Taxes Huice, who yesterday afternoon wrote to the several companies advising them of amounts of taxes now due and payable to the city of Richmond. The assessment by the commission, because of the loss of the rolling stock tax, is approximately $135,000 less than a year ago.

CHARGED WITH KILLING FIVE.

United States Trooper Arrested for Murder of His Family.

St. Louis, Nov. 2.—Scott Stone, enlisted in the United States Army, under the name of Joseph A. Talbot, and whose wife and four children were burned to death in a fire that destroyed their home at Tolona, Ill., September 28, was arrested at Jefferson Barracks, Friday at the request of Lawis A. Busch, state's attorney of Champaign county, Ill.

According to telephone information received here, a warrant charging murder was issued at Champaign against Stone.

After the burning of the Stone farmhouse, a blood-stained dress belonging to Mrs. Stone was found. At the inquest Stone testified he slept in a separate room from his wife, and escaped the fire by jumping out of a window.

RIXEY DENIED AID.

Supreme Court Dismisses Suit of Banker Seeking Release from Asylum.

The Supreme Court of the United States today dismissed for want of jurisdiction the case of C. J. Rixey, banker, of this city, who was indicted April 3, 1911, in the corporation court of the city of Alexandria for grand larceny.

The effect of the decision of the court today is that Rixey will continue to be held in custody in the institution for insane to which he has been committed.

The action before the court was brought by C. J. Rixey, Jr., son of the indicted banker. The defendant is Robert H. Cox, sergeant of the city of Alexandria. Following the indictment of Rixey his physical and mental condition was such that he could not be tried, and in September, 1911, under the Virginia law, he was committed to the Western State Hospital at Staunton. It is alleged on behalf of Rixey that he has been held without due authority at this hospital and also that an order of the corporation court of the city of Alexandria for the purpose of commtting him to the department of the criminal insane at the Southwestern State Hospital at Marion was without authority.

Rixey's son brought proceedings in the district court of the United States for the Eastern district of Virginia to secure the release of the indicted banker, but the court refused to interfere. In pursuance of findings of the corporation court of Alexandria Rixey will be removed to the hospital at Marion.

CHURCHES YESTERDAY

Ideal Weather Brings Many Persons to Places of Worship.

Communion was celebrated in most of the churches yesterday and there was an increase in all congregations.

Dr. Hunter preached in Trinity M. E. Church, at 11 a. m. His discourse was heard with interest.

Special reformation services were conducted in Immanuel Lutheran Church. They were in celebration of the anniversary of the great movement in Germany, October 31, 1517. The sermon was based upon Martin Luther's memorable words in the presence of the Emperor when he was being tried for heresy. The text was "As the hart leapeth, so my sould longeth for thee."

Muscovites Welcome War With Sublime Porte, as They Expect to Obtain Use of the Dardanelles.

Petrograd, Nov. 2—Although the Turkish ambassador has been handed his passports and the representatives of the allied powers have left Turkey Russia has up to the present taken no aggressive step against the Turks. There is a disposition on the part of the government to force Turkey to take the entire initiative for the present, although it is known that a plan of action is complete and oniy waits the signal to be put into effect.

It is believed certain here that Turkey will concentrate her efforts against England in Egypt. A holy war is expected to be proclaimed by the Sultan, but there is a general feeling here that it will meet with little sympathy from the Mohammedans of Egypt or India.

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF ALEXANDRIA.

Woodrow Wilson is probably, all around, the best equipped President this Country has ever known. Congress has, under his leadership, done more to carry out the Democratic platform, and promote the best interests of the Country, than any other Congress in the same time. In the conditions brought about by the European War and Mexican affairs, men of all parties feel safe and thankful that such a man as Wilson is in the White House.

To have enacted the Currency, Trust, and Trade Bills, not to mention many other important measures, in so short a time, is a remarkable accomplishment.

The Administration is now at the bar of public opinion for approval or disapproval. Tomorrow the voters will speak.

Maine has already spoken in hearty approval. What will the rest of the Country do? What will Alexandria do?

As to our own congressman, the President has written in high praise, and justly so. We have never had a representative who more successfully represented this district.

Democrats! We are next door neighbors to the President. He was born in Virginia, and attended our University. Let Alexandria give him a rousing indorsement. If any democrat has a grouch or personal grievance, it is his duty to his party and to the President to put it aside and give loyal support. Let every democrat and friend of the Administration vote and vote early.

Let every democratic office holder be alive tomorrow and active in getting out every democratic vote. Let us give a full vote of confidence and approval.

Let the Foreword to-morrow be: Democrats! No sulking, no skulking.

J. K. M. NORTON,
President of the Wilson, Marshall, and Carlin Club.

CONDITIONS AT TSING TAU.

Fall of City Momentarily Expected—Bombardment Continues.

London, Nov. 2.—A dispatch from Peking to the Exchange Telegraph Company says:

"The fall of Tsingtau is expected momentarily. The allies expected to enter yesterday, but were impeded by the bad weather. The bombardment continued strenuously all day both from sea and land."

Tokyo, Nov. 2.—It is officially announced that the bombardment of Tsingtau continues. Most of the German forts have been silenced, only two replying persistently to the attack by land and sea.

The bombardment caused a fire near the harbor, and the explosion of an oil tank. Fort Siao Chan Shan was set on fire. A German gunboat which lost its funnel during the fighting disappeared, and probably has sunk.

The fighting is desperate. For miles from shore the sea reflects the flames from the burning shipyards, gas reservoirs, and houses that had been set afire by shells from the Japanese and British warships and land artillery, which cover the rushes of the infantry.

The Germans are strongly intrenched, having at least 30 fortified positions with 100 guns, while elaborate systems of barbed wire entanglements and subterranean mines have impeded the advance of the allies.

QUIET CAMPAIGN IN COMMONWEALTH

MAY ELECT IRVINE

Democrats Throughout the State Hope to Win Everywhere and Uphold Hand of President Wilson.

The congressional campaign in Virginia, which closes tonight, has been an exceedingly quiet one, save in the Ninth District, where for two or three months a stiff, hotly contested fight between R. Tate Irvine and Congressman Slemp, Republican candidate for re-election, has been waged.

In every district in the State there are two or more candidates for Congress, one Socialist in each, but in none of them is there any real fight, except in the Ninth. In the Tenth District, where George Revercomb is opposing the candidacy of Congressman Flood, there has been some little campaigning, and both Mr. Flood and Mr. Revercomb have made one or two speeches, but interest is slight. Mr. Flood's re-election is a certainty and the voters are refusing to take Mr. Revercomb's candidacy seriously.

First District—W. A. Jones, T. E. Coleman, Godfrey Kinder.

Second District—E. E. Holland, E. B. Everton, S. L. Ford.

Fourth District—Walter A. Watson, Fred Herzig.

Fifth District—E. W. Saunders, William G. Fulton, Charles A. Heernans, W. R. Keefe.

Sixth District—Carter Glass, B. F. Dinther.

Seventh District—James Hay, E. C. Garrison.

Eighth District—C. C. Carlin, Joseph L. Crupper, Milton Fling, James S. Johnston.

In Richmond the voters, besides helping re-elect two members of the administrative board, Hirschberg and McCarthy, and will vote on the question of adopting a compulsory school attendance law.

Never before have so many speakers been on the stump at one time, in the Ninth District and never before have the counties been so thoroughly covered with speakers The democrats are thoroughly awake and are determined to win the victory this time. They feel that it is their duty to uphold the hand of Wilson by sending a Democrat to Congress, and they will do it.

Mr. Irvine has made a most remarkable campaign. Everywhere he has spoken to large crowds and he has been accorded the most flattering attention. He has conducted his campaign squarely on the issue before the American people. He has injected no personalities into it.

HALLOWE'EN PASTIMES

Streets of Alexandria Alive With Masqueraders Last Saturday Night.

Hallowe'en was obesrved in Alexandria last Saturday night on a larger scale than usual. Early in the night hundreds of masqueraders began to appear, and King street presented carnival scenes. Young and old were out, and the merrymakers enjoyed themselves to their hearts' content. Metorological conditions were ideal, the moon shining brightly, while the temperature was mild and all that could be desired.

There was but little of the mischievous in the air, and youngsters in the main, refrained from bombarding doors or indulging in other annoyances. The old time senseless procedures on Hallowe'en night seemed to have given way for more sane acts, and the masqueraders moved to and fro enjoying themselves and affording amusement for those not participants in the sports.

Notwithstanding the traditions, no genuine spooks appeared, nor were females seen sweeping through the heavens on brooms. Ghosts are said to prefer moonlight nights on which to make themselves seen, but if they were out they were as "The Invisible Prince" of the fairy stories.

The fun was not confined to Saturday night, but public and private gatherings will be in evidence again tonight.

CAMP AT VIRGINIA BEACH

Adjutant General Sale Announces That Site There Will be used Next Year.

Richmond, Nov. 2.—The state camp site at Virginia Beach will be used by the State for the annual encampment of Virginia troops next year. This announcement was made Friday by Adjutant General W. W. Sale, who has been in the city for the past three days on business in connection with the camp site

"That portion of the camp site, which was plowed up last year, has been harrowed and smoothed and sowed in grass," stated General Sale. "With proper attention we expect it to have a good stand by the time we expect to make use of it next summer, which will be for most of the month of July and a part of August.

"Each regiment of State troops will go into camp seperately and each of the three regiments will be there for ten days. In addition to this, the Richmond Light Infantry Blues, which battalion has heretofore camped by itself, usually at Basic City, will the coming year camp at the State site just as the other troops will do.

"The dates that the regiments will have at the camp have not yet been decided upon definitely, but the camp will open early in July and will run something more than a month. Particular attention will be paid to rifle practice and the rifle range will be in use constantly, rifle practice being a part of the daiy routine."

"COME, LET US REASON TOGETHER."

The prospects for a continuation of a substantial democratic majority in Congress are exceedingly bright, the crest of the tidal wave of 1912 having in no wise receded. The Republicans who have been in the minority during the past two years have labored in season and out of season in futile attempts to bring about issues which have died aborning, the great majority of the people of the country failing to see any thing in the nature of blunders on the part of the administration of Woodrow Wilson and his able democratic coadjutors. This is a pleasant reflection for those who aided in bringing about present conditions.

As will be the case throughout the country, the people of Virginia will be called upon tomorrow to affirm by their ballots the course of the state's representatives in Congress. The great majority will, of course, perform this duty cheerfully and with pleasure. The democrats of the Old Dominion have for years had nine out of the ten Congressmen apportioned her, and there is good reason to believe that Mr. Irvine will succeed Mr. Slemp in the Ninth district, so long a stronghold of the republicans.

The Eighth district, so ably represented by Hon. C. C. Carlin, is a stronghold of democracy, and he will, of course, succeed himself. He has three opponents—a republican, a progressive and a socialist—but Mr. Carlin's majority will far exceed the united vote of these aspirants.

Like all men, however, who have represented the Alexandria district in Congress, Mr. Carlin finds himself with some lukewarm supporters as well as some open opponents. This class is composed, in the main, of disappointed people or those who thoughtlessly espouse the cause of such, while most of the disgruntled fail to place their fingers upon a single instance where they personally have suffered or their interests. Many of this element are democrats—that is they have been flying that flag—but failing to realize that this is not a primary election, or a contest in the party camp, in their recklessness they are placing themselves in the republican ranks.

A Great One centuries ago called attention to the fact that a propnet was not without honor save in his own country and among his own kin, and that a man's foes are often members of his own household. While the Alexandria representative has made a record during his service in Congress, having been selected by a republican Speaker as the successor of the great DeArmond on the committee on the judiciary, and being one of the counsellors of the President of the United States while Congress has been engaged in the most important legislation in the history of the country, some Alexandrians and socalled democrats, have for reasons best known to themselves, announced their purpose to cast their ballots against him. It is suggested that many who talk thus will deposit democratic ballots tomorrow. We prefer to believe this will be the case and that no man who has the interests of his party at heart will be so precipitate as to lend his aid to enemies of democracy.

The greatest foes of Horace Greeley were residnts of his own ward in New York, and when he was running on the democratic ticket for President of the United States he was scratched unmercifully by those with whom he had lived and moved during his long and useful life.

It is a sad fact that on that occasion Virginia cast her vote against the democratic candidate and for Ulysses S. Grant. The aftermath of that serious mistake was apparant for years. The State Legislature was a menagerie, while whites and blacks occupied seats in the Board of Aldermen and Common Council of the city of Alexandria and negroes represented the city and county in the Legislature. A few years later the republicans dominated the Old Dominion, using the readjuster party as their bludgeon, and the political gatherings of those days were composed of whites and blacks. In order to bring about more satisfactory conditions the democrats had to come together as a man and by avalanches sweep away these hordes of renegade Virginians, carpetbaggers, negroes and adventurers.

Probably the small percentage of discontented people at present fail to realize their position. The Alexandrian who is posing as the republican candidate for Congress is endeavoring to rally all the elements opposed to Democracy and socalled democrats who may thoughtlessly cast their votes for him will be aiding in reproducing conditions which another generation fought to down.

This murmuring of discontent is not of a cancerous nature, however. It is simply an unsightly protuberance which we hope will disappear by tomorrow.

A STATEMENT AND AN APPEAL

You can only fully appreciate an appeal when you put yourself in the place of those who are to benefit by your bounty.

Fancy yourself alone, poor and conscious of some slowly developing malady—until one day your physician whispers the grim word "incurable." Death awaits you, but with your family all compelled to go out each day as breadwinners, who is to minister to you? Other sick people may hope to recover, but for you there is neither release nor relief, and your wild fancy paints the evil days before you.

Or maybe it is your husband, the breadwinner of the family who is ill with typhoid. The nursing you know is of the utmost importance, and you wonder desparingly how in your already busy life you are going to meet this added duty.

Sometimes it is an old woman with shaking palsy; unable to control her hands or to do much for herself, she would never be properly bathed and attended if the visiting nurse did not make her regular visits. The time spent on this little old woman is not helping anyone else, but it is keeping a human being from living in utter neglect.

Between these cases lie all kind of variation, and to each one goes the visiting nurse, Is it necessary to tell you what a visiting nurse is, and why her services are so in demand? And are you asking "Why do people love her, trust her and obey her?" Put yourself in the place of those less fortunate than yourself, and remember that by helping this work, you may be helping to brighten a night of despair for some sick and lonely person.

"The objects of the Alexandria Anti-Tuberculosis Society" to quote from the Constitution, "are to provide a trained nurse to visit and care for such sick persons as cannot, or ought not, to be sent to the hospital and are otherwise unable to secure skilled attendence; to teach proper care of the sick and to inculcate the principles of simple Sanitation. In tuberculosis cases especially to teach the necessity of absolute cleanliness, and proper precautions, against infection in incipient cases of tuberculosis—where the patient is unable to do so—to provide means where the patient may receive treatment at the State Sanatorium."

When the visiting Nurse's work was inaugurated in Alexandria by the Anti-Tuberculosis Society, through the generous contribution of the Hon. C. C. Carlin, who paid the salary and equipment of the nurse for the first year, the Society bclieved that it should be philanthropic as well as charitable, and knowing that many would hesitate to call upon the nurse if there were no charge, agreed upon a fee for such visits, but with the understanding that these cases might only be taken when they in no way interfered with the regular Instructive visiting nurses work. The nurse also cares for the Industrial policy holders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, whose splendid health campaign among its policy holders is so well known. For each visit the society receives a stated sum the amount for last year being $320.

Florence Nightengale, whose wise words come often to mind, bids us beware of pronosticating. Tell people only what you have accomplished," she says. "Let them infer from that what you are going to accmplish."

Of the record of the Instructive Visiting Nurse, the board of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society is justly proud. In the three years which have passed since the work was started, the nurse has paid an average of 2,263 visits a year. Approximately half of these have been Metropolitan Life Insurance cases, about 250, for which a fee was received, and about 900 to the indigent poor of the city.

The past summer has been a particularly busy one of the nurse, an average of 250 visits a month being her record. Possibly the necessity for an instructive visiting nurse was never so fully realized as during these months when typhoid was so prevalant in our city, a disease in which, nursing is of the utmost importance. In cases where it was necessary the nurse called twice a day, bathed and cared for the patient, instructed how to prevent infection of the family, and often by her care restored the breadwinner of the family to usefulness.

Dr. Richard Cabot tells us that we should share our enthusiasm. If the enthusiasm felt for the work of the visiting nurses' association in this board could be shared in every home in this city, our dream of a perpetual visiting nurses association in Alexandcity, would come true, and there would be no unnursed sick in a home in the city.

We, the Board, are of course but the intermediaries to put into operation the wish of the community that nursing care should be given to the sick and unfortunate of the community, and so we hold out our hands and say "You wish that this work be done please give us now the means."

To carry on this work the Society needs about $1100 yearly. Of this amount approximately $320 is received from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and $285 on annual dues and pledges, leaving a balance to be raised of $495.

Realizing the many demands made upon the generosity of Alexandrians' the Society is anxious to omit the entertainment usually given at this season and to make only this appeal through the paper, hoping that everyone who reads it will regard it as a personal one to them.

This is a work which appeals to all and which everyone would regret having discontinued, but to carry it on the Society must have money. A few people are giving generous support, but to continue it, it must have the support of all.

The Board therefore earnestly begs your help and cooperation.

Fanny Scott Herbert, Treasurer
Mary M. Howell, Chairman Finance Com.

CLEMENTS LIBERATED.

Negro Charged With Assaulting Young Woman Declared Not Guilty

Richmond, Nov. 2.—John Clements is not guilty of attacking Miss Fannie T. Chenault near her home on the Seven Pines line on the night of May 9th.

So said the jury in the Henrico Circuit Court Friday after having deliberated over the merits of the case for exactly eighteen hours.

The long delay in reaching a unanimous verdict was due, members of the jury explained, to the attitude of one juror, who until late yesterday morning held out for conviction.

This juror's name was given as Walter Ford. While he is said to have believed Clements guilty, he did not, other members of the jury explained, name the sentence he wished imposed.

Clements cannot be rearrested for the same crime, nor can he now be tried for attempted assault. Moreover, it is not probable that any further arrests will be made in the case, as it is doubtful if any jury would convict another man after Miss Chenault has identified Clements as the criminal.

Mr. Chenualt, the girl's father, seemed to be greatly depressed by the verdict. He had confidently hoped for a conviction, and when the jury liberated the negro he was noticeably shocked and stunned.

As soon as Clements was released from the criminal charge he was arrested on a warrant charging him with stealing the "wrench" from Charles Dean. This warrant was sworn out on June 17th, but had never been served.

Attorneys for Clements were surprised when their client was again arrested, but they took him before Magistrate Sunday for immediate trial, and Clements, although acknowledge guilt, was acquitted, the magistrate saying that the negro, who had been in jail for over five months, had already been punished enough.

Father Hannigan accompanied Clements before the Magistrate's court and pleaded for him. When he was finally liberated Clements went to the Main street station and took the first train for Norfolk where his mother lives.

He was escorted to the station by Deputy Sheriff Sydnor, who had been instructed by the judge to see that the negro left the courthouse without being harmed.

"KAISER'S DREAMS"

Says He Has Started on His Career at The Request of The Virgin Mary.

Petrograd, Nov. 2.—The Gazette Czestochowska, a newspaper published in Polish by the Germans since they entered Czenstochoka, prints the following announcement by the Kaiser:

"Poles, you remember how one night the bells of the Sviatogorsk Monastery rang out by themselves. Pious people then felt that a miracle had happened. It was my decision to fight Russia and to restore Poland her holy possessions and unite her with one of the most civilized countries in the world—namely, Germany.

"I had a beautiful dream. The Virgin Mary came to me and ordered me to save holy dwellings, which danger threatened. She looked at me with tears in her eyes, and I came to obey her divine will.

"Know this, ye Poles, and meet my soldiers as brothers and saviors! Know that those who are with me will be generously rewarded and those who are against me will perish!

"With me is God and the holy Virgin. She raised Germany's sword to save Poland."

HERMES FLOATED 45 MINUTES.

Two Men Killed, Injured And 40 Missing on Cruiser.

Dover, England, Nov. 2.—It is ascertained that the British cruiser Hermes, which was sunk by a German submarine Saturday, was attacked 12 miles east by southeast of Goodwin Sands, in the Straits of Dover, at 8:15 o'clock in the forenoon. A number of torpedo boat destroyers and other vessels immediately rushed to the assistance of the wounded ship, which floated three-quarters of an hour after being struck and then heeled over and sank.

Meantime the destroyers rescued the greater number of the crew of 300 men, while other vessels searched the sea in an endeavor to locate the submarine. Two men were killed by the explosion and nine were injured. About 40 others are missing. The survivors were landed here.

Poli's—"Fifty Miles From Boston."

The Poli players will be seen this week in their first musical comedy offering of the fall season. "Fifty Miles From Boston," one of George M. Cohan's musical successes. The plot concerns a pretty young girl, who is postmistress in a little town 50 miles outside of Boston, and 1,000 miles from nowhere, in point of metropolitan progress." This fascinating little heroine has two sweethearts, one the the son of a hotel proprietor and a Harvard baseball celebrity, an dthe other the son of the general store keeper.

The brother of the postmistress robs the postoffice and one of the girl's sweehearts is accused of the crime. The trouble thu stirred up keeps the village gossips busy and specially activ is one mischief making old maid, who keeps the audience laughing all the time she is on the stage. Two features of the entertainment which are sure to create much laughter are the village fire department and the village band. There are several song numbers those which have won greatest popularity being "Waltz With Me," "Jack and Jill," "Harrigan," "The Boys Who Fight at the Flames," "Ain't It Awful," and "My Small Town Girl."

Gayety—"Gypsy Maids"

Numerous novelties in the way of burlesque entertainment are promised in the offering of Blutch Cooper's "Gypsy Maids" company at the Gayety this week. The principal roles are assigned to Tom McRae, an eccentric comedian and Belle Mallette. A two act musical comedy written by James E. Cooper and Tom McRae, with lyrics by Billy K. Wells, and music by Otto F. Merrmann, entitled "Smoke Among the Gypsies,'" is the vehicle. Miss Mallette's voice is considered one of the finest in burlesque. The supporting cast will include Si Jenks, John C. Hanson, Jim C. Dixon, Murray Harris, Jenie Ross, Fanie St. Clair, and Lottie Blackford. The Moscow duo will entertain with Russian dancing, singing, and instrumental music.

The burletta has to do with the adventures of "Smoke" McRae when he is thrown among a band of the wandering irresponsible people of the road. The Friday night performance will include the popular country store event.

DEATH OF BISHOP SMITH

Prelate Is Striken While Attending Church Convention.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Bishop Chas. W. Smith, one of the best known Methodists Episcopal churchmen of the United States, died suddenly Saturday at the home of Justice Thomas H. Anderson, of the District Supreme Court, 1531 New Hampshire avenue northwest.

Bishop Smith was seized with a sudden attack of inflammation of the heart while out for a morning walk with Justice Anderson Friday. He returned to the justice's home and several of the best known specialists of the city were called. He rallied immediately and serious consequences were not anticipated. He suffered a sinking spell early Saturday however, and died at 5:25 o'clock.

Bishop Smith had been the guest of Justice Anderson since last Wednesday. He came to Washington to attend the semi-annual meeting of the board of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church.
